I consider myself to have a good stable base in my own personal life. I understand that should I be invited for interview, I will be asked to demonstrate a strong work history and work ethic, that I am stable financially and relationally.

I would like to discuss certain challenges I have experienced in past years at my interview that may affect the public's perception of my character. (Be aware that many people have come to accept the Lord after leading a less-than-desirable lifestyle for a time. This is not a problem for the ideal Candidate – as long as they are indeed in the second phase of their life. However, please be prepared to talk more at your interview, should the questions arise, about any issues regarding health limitations, relationships, finances, drugs/alcohol, the law, criminal convictions, etc – thank you)

I am prepared to maintain a neat and presentable appearance, dressing appropriately depending on my surroundings.

I accept that if my accent or manner of speaking is difficult for most people to easily understand, I may not be selected at this time.

Should I not be an acceptable candidate at the moment, I would still be happy to support other candidates.

I accept that I will only comment publicly on issues for which I have expertise or good grounding.

If I am endorsed as a Candidate I would be able to start campaigning immediately (with assistance from the party's headquarters) –
